Hi! I'm Keroppi! This is my best friend, Den Den. I love having a best friend! Den Den knows everything about me. He knows what makes me laugh — and what makes me cry. He knows what songs are "music to my ears — and what songs make me want to cover my ears. Den Den even knows some things about me that no one else does.

In this book, you and your very own best friend can keep a diary to record all of those special memories and facts about each other.

Later on in the book I'll show you how to have a best friends' party, and even how to write to each other in a best friends' secret code. There's a lot of other stuff in this book for you and your best friend to do. So what are you waiting for? Grab your best friend and hop to it!

On the bottom of every page of this book, you'll find a word in a secret code. Keep track of the words to get a special message from me to you!
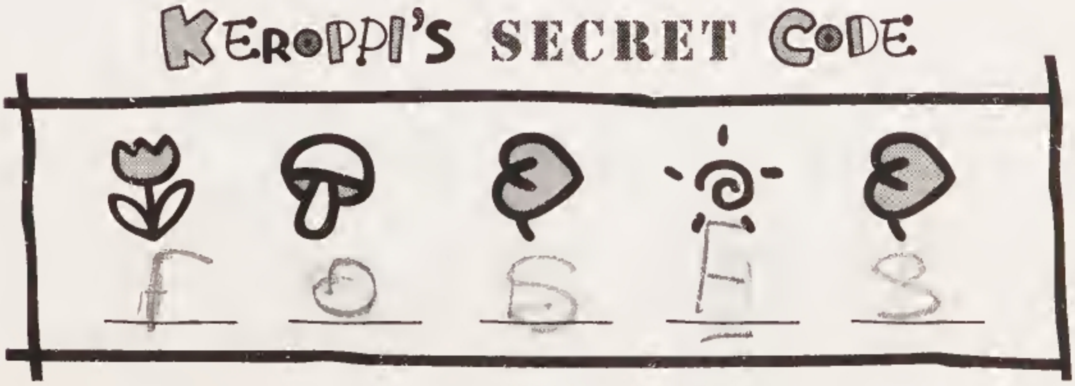
Turn to page 36 to learn how to crack the code.



Picture-Perfect

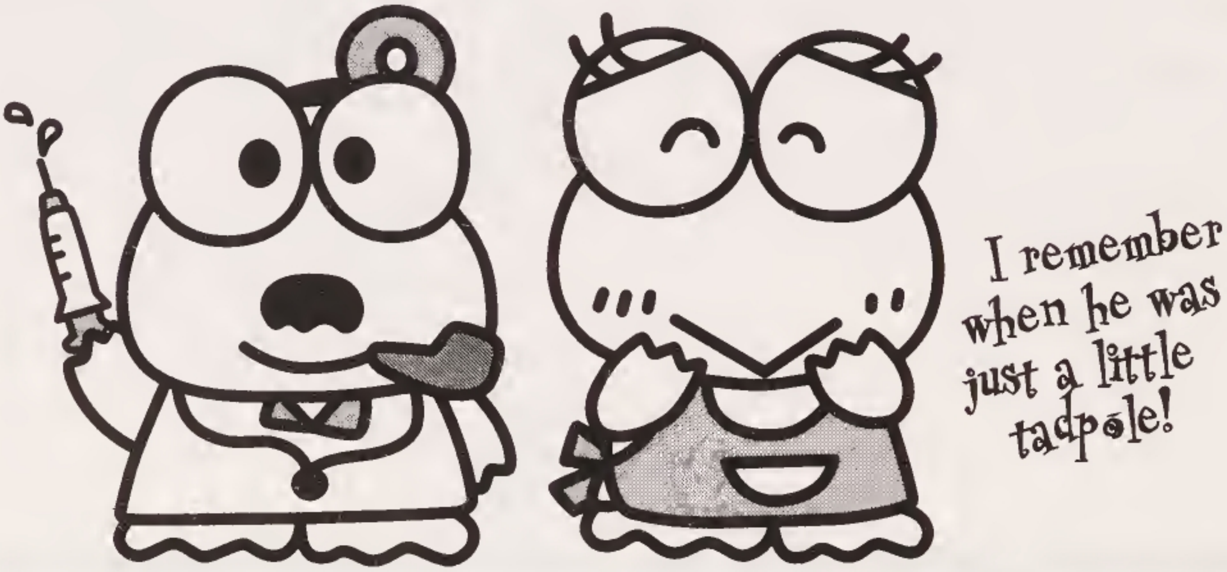
FaMiLy FUN

I live on Donut Pond with my mom and dad. My dad's a doctor. He wants me to follow in his flippers someday, but I think I'm more like my mom. She has a really great sense of humor. But enough about me. Who are the people in your families?



I remember when he was just a little tadpole!

Best Friends, Best Secrets

Den Den and I have fun playing with all of our friends at Donut Pond. But sometimes we share secrets that are just between us (like my secret crush on Keroleen). Den Den is the best. He never tells anyone my secrets, and I never tell anyone his.

There are many ways to have fun with secrets. I'll tell you all about them on these next pages. Den Den and I decided it wouldn't be any fun to keep these great ideas a secret. Sometimes, secrets are best when you share them with a friend!

CHOOSE YOUR SECRET NAMES

Den Den and I picked secret names that we call each other. Secret names come in handy when you're writing each other notes, or talking to each other on the phone. If other people happen to read your note, they won't know who wrote it or whom it's to!

You can pick any name in the world for your secret name. Maybe there's a name you've always wanted. If you don't have any ideas, try thinking of your favorite movie star, your favorite color, or even your favorite animal.

What? You want to know what my secret name is? Sorry, but I can't tell you. Then it wouldn't be a secret!

Learn My Secret Code

Sometimes I wonder what it would be like to be a secret agent. I'd have cool tools, like a telephone hidden in my watch and a pen that writes in invisible ink.

Secret agents aren't the only ones who can use secret codes. Best friends can use them, too. You and your best friend can send each other messages that no one else can read.

Here is a special secret code that Den Den and I made up. You can use it, too. Each picture stands for the letter of the alphabet below it.

My name, Keroppi, looks like this in secret code:

If you look carefully at the bottom of each page of this book, you'll see a word written in my secret code. Copy down the code in order to find out a super-secret message from me to you!

How to Send Secret Messages

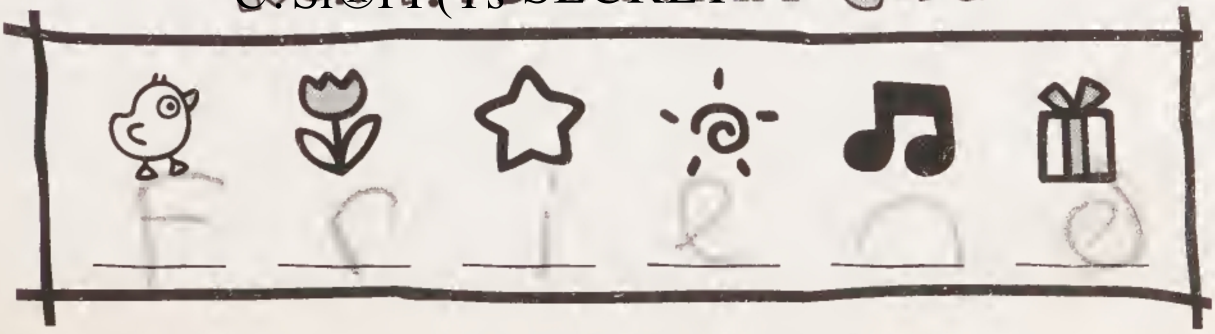
You can use my secret code to send messages in all kinds of ways. There's only one way you shouldn't try — don't send each other messages in class! Den Den and I got caught passing notes in class once. We had to stay after school for a whole week.

Instead, try these other fun ways to send your secret messages:

- Send your messages through the mail. It may seem like a silly thing to do if you and your best friend see each other every day, but getting a letter in the mail is really special. Just make sure you don't use the secret code to write your friend's address on the envelope! Unless there's a secret agent working at your post office, he probably won't know whom to deliver the letter to.

I hide secret messages inside a tree stump.

KEROPPI'S SECRET CODE



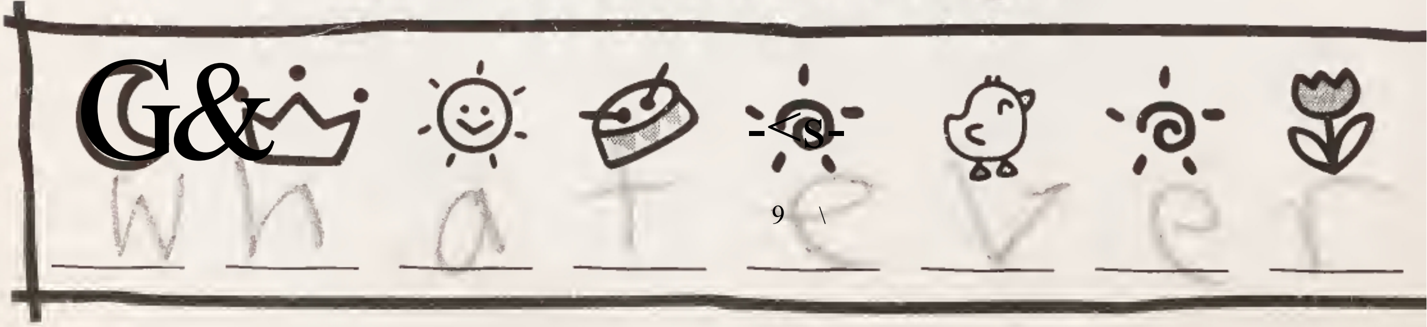
- Send your message in a sweet surprise. Fold up your message into a long, thin rectangle and slip it into the outer wrapper of a candy bar. Then give the candy bar to your friend at lunch.

- Slip the message into your friend's locker at school.
- Slip your message inside the pages of a book — say between pages 34 and 35. Then give the book to your friend, and say something like, "I thought you'd like to read this book. Something really exciting happens on page 34." When your friend turns to the page, she'll find the note.

Make Your Own Secret Code

After you've practiced using my secret code, you and your best friend can make up a code of your very own. It's easy. Just remember that each letter must have its own special symbol to represent it. You can use pictures, like I did, or come up with some other way.

KEROPPI'S SECRET CODE



Here are some popular codes you can use:

- The number code. Give each letter a number, like A=1, B=2, etc.
- The backwards alphabet. A=Z, B=Y, C=X, etc. Use this space to write in your very own secret code:

___	___	___	___	___	___	___	___
A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H

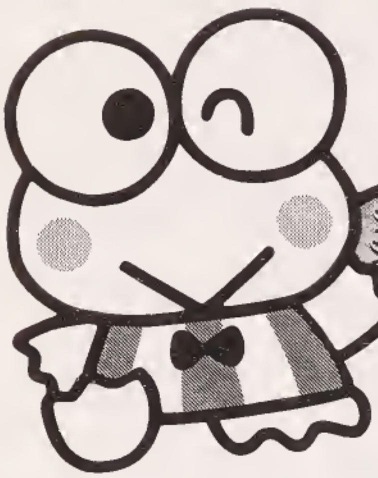
Make a Best Friends' Scrapbook



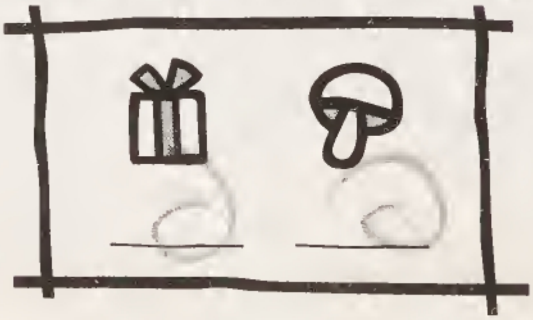
I'll never forget the time Den Den and I won the Donut Pond three-legged race. I can't forget — I've got a photo of it with the first-place ribbon glued into our Best Friends' Scrapbook. You and your best friend can make a scrapbook, too. That way you'll never forget the good times you have together.

Step One: The Book

There are many things you can use as your scrapbook. Here are some ideas:

- Use several sheets of construction paper or poster board, all cut to the same size. Stack the papers in a neat pile. Punch three holes in one side of the papers. Thread a piece of yarn or ribbon through each hole and tie it into a bow. Presto! Instant scrapbook!

KEROPPI'S SECRET CODE

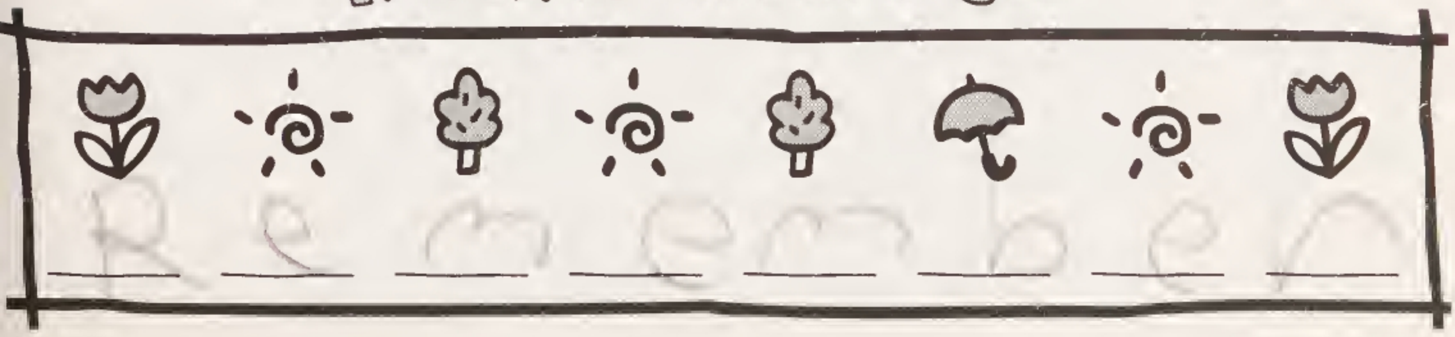


- Use a notebook. A three-ring binder is great because you can always add more pages.
- Use a photo album. The albums with paper pages work well, and so do the ones with the magnetic pages.
- Buy a blank scrapbook at an arts and crafts store.

Step Two: Decorate the Cover

Once you've got a book, decorate the cover of your Best Friends' Scrapbook. Use crayons, markers, paint, glitter, ribbons, and scraps of paper to jazz it up. Den Den and I pasted a photo of the two of us together on the cover of our scrapbook.

KEROPPI'S SECRET CODE



Step Three: Add the Memories

A scrapbook is a place to put all the things that remind you and your best friend of the good times you've had. Here are some things to put in a scrapbook:

- Photos of you and your best friend
- Notes, letters, and postcards you write to each other
- Ticket stubs from movies you've seen together
- Programs and flyers from school events
- Pictures cut out from magazines of your favorite actors, animals, singers, foods — your favorite anything!

Before you start pasting, think about how you want to arrange your memories. Do you want a crazy mix of pictures? Or do you want to organize your pages into categories, like School, Parties, and Vacations? It's up to you — it's your scrapbook.

As you paste down your pictures and mementos, you can decorate your scrapbook pages with stickers, rubber stamps, or designs you and your best friend draw together.

Don't Worry if you fill up your First Scrapbook.
You can always Make More!
